MEMOIRS.

REV. MALCOLM V. WOOD.

Rev. Malcolm V. Wood, son of Rev. Landy Wood, of the South Carolina Conference, was born February 12th, 1846, converted, and joined the Church April 27th, 1856. Received on trial December, 1872; appointed to Westfield Creek Mission, 1873; 1874, to Conwayboro' and Bucksville, where he fell a martyr to his work, August 27th, 1874. From his youth he was a thorough student, with becoming modesty, an independent thinker, using all means within his reach to improve his mind. A graduate in the study of Medicine, yet called of God to preach, he gave up all hope of earthly emolument without regret. He had a fine moral magnetism, drawing persons to him and moulding their opinions seemingly without an effort. His piety was deep, his preaching clear and persuasive, in the demonstration of the spirit and with power.

The closing scene of his life was triumphant; at times the room seemed filled with the Divine presence. Of this chastening of the Lord, he said: "I am anxious he should remove the dross—all of it." On being informed that he had but a short time to live, he gave directions concerning his burial, and pronounced solemn and affectionate blessings on his immediate relatives. On his father's regretting he could add nothing to his comfort as he was passing through the dark valley, he replied: "No, it is not dark here, only the dim shadow of death lies across my pathway; the valley is all lit up with the presence of Jesus." When he began to sink, he said: "I shall soon go now," and settling down with a holy calm, seemed lost to all around; but, when asked, do you know the Lord Jesus Christ? He replied, "Oh! yes, He is my Saviour." Mother and wife, were the last earthly names pronounced, and he then passed over to the disembodied Saints who wait beyond the River. His body was interred in the rear of the Church in Conwayboro', S. C.

REV. HENRY BASS GREEN,

Son of Glenn and Mary Green, was born in Colleton County, S. C., 1844. Truth, justice, and honor were prominent traits in his character, and bore him through all the temptations of camp life during the war, without a blot upon his name. At the close of the war he entered upon mercantile life near Savannah, Ga., with every prospect of great success. At a meeting held on the Walterboro' Circuit, he was awakened and converted to God. Immediately after his conversion, he began to exert his influence for the conversion of others. He talked of Christ and His religion to all. Feeling deeply impressed that it was his duty to preach the Gospel, but feeling incompetent, and unworthy of so high a calling, he refused to yield, and lost his peace. Continuing greatly distressed, he found no relief until he yielded himself, soul and body, to the will divine. Licensed to preach in October, 1869. In 1872 he was employed on the Walterboro' Circuit, and in December, was received on trial in the Conference, and appointed junior preacher on the same Circuit by special request. In December, 1873, he was re-appointed to Walterboro' Circuit, and labored diligently and successfully. In June, his health began to fail, and though not able to preach, he was not thought to be dangerously ill. It was thought rest and medicine would soon restore him. His colleague visited him; he asked him how long it would be before he could be at his work again, and when the opinion was expressed that his work was done, he smiled saying, "well, I am perfectly indifferent as to what the Lord may do with me," and said in effect with St. Paul, "For to me to live is Christ, and to die is gain." He sank rapidly, after giving directions concerning his burial. As his attendants laid him down upon his pillow, he said, "Lord, Jesus, receive my spirit," and expired. Thus passed away our beloved brother and fellow laborer, full of faith and the Holy Ghost.

REV. CLAUDIUS H. PRITCHARD, JR.

Claudius H. Pritchard, Jr., son of Rev. C. H. and Mrs. Mary B. Pritchard, was born in Fayetteville, N. C., August 23d, 1850; joined the Church in Camden, S. C., in 1866, was licensed to preach in Spartanburg, in 1873, and admitted on trial in the South Carolina Conference in December of the same year, and appointed to the Cokesbury Circuit. With his whole heart in the work, he was a few days in advance of his first appointment. He had not completed the first round of his Circuit, when he was stricken down by paralysis, and after six days of intense suffering, he died at Greenwood, S. C., January 20th, 1874, aged 23 years, 4 months and 27 days. While engaged in the practice of dentistry, he felt it his duty to preach. He very soon endeared himself to those he was appointed to serve; and gave evidence of acceptability and usefulness. The nature of his affliction prevented much speech. Under great pain, he said: "If it were not for the help of the Lord I could not endure it." "What a blessed privilege is prayer." When near his end, he said to his parents: "You have done much for me and feel a great interest in me, but if my Heavenly Father had not done more for me, it would have been bad for me." After his death, there was found a paper in his pocket on which was written: "Cast thy burden on the Lord and he will sustain thee." A message seeming to the sorrowing ones as a message from God. His memory is to the hearts most sorely bereaved what the Scriptures say of the death of the Saints in the sight of the Lord, "Precious."

MEMOIR OF ROBERT BRYCE.

Since the last meeting of this Conference it has pleased our Heavenly Father to remove from the field of his earthly duties, our venerable and beloved friend and brother, ROBERT BRYCE, Esq., who has held the office of Treasurer of this body from the time of its organization. It is most becoming that a suitable tribute should be paid to the memory of one whose Christian character has been so exemplary, and whose fidelity and integrity in the discharge of his official duties have at once commanded our respect and won our love.

Robert Bryce was born in Glasgow, Scotland, January 6th, 1798.

His parents, with their family, removed to this country about the year 1802, and soon after settled in Columbia, S. C. While yet a lad, our departed brother was placed in the commercial house of the late Andrew Wallace, who was also one of the first managers of this corporation, and to whose judgment and liberality it has been largely indebted. At the age of twelve years he made a public profession of his faith, and united with the Methodist Church. This relation he sustained, with unchanging constancy and simple but beautiful consistency, for about sixty-four years, till the Lord, whom he had served from a child, was pleased to call him to the recompense of reward. During that period he sustained to the Church the various relations of Sunday School teacher and superintendent, of class leader, and steward, and trustee; in all which his attention to duty, his efficiency and zeal, secured for him the admiration of his brethren, and made him a bright example for the young.

When the Act of the Legislature of South Carolina, in 1850, gave to this Conference a corporate existence, and the act of the Ecclesiastical Conference placed under its care and management the several charitable trusts previously superintended by various Boards, Robert Bryce was unanimously chosen from among the laymen of our Church as the suitable person for the responsible position of its Treasurer. A striking proof of the estimate placed upon his character for probity, was found in the fact that he had to make no application for sureties on the large bond he was required to give, two gentlemen who had known him from his childhood voluntarily offering themselves as sureties, one of whom was Andrew Wallace.

His distinguished abilities as a man of business were conspicuously displayed in the management of the financial interests intrusted to his care, and the clear and admirable reports annually made by him to this body.

The character of this honored servant of God was marked by simplicity, sincerity, and perfect symmetry. It was not of that weak and pliable sort, which in an improper sense becomes all things to all men, yielding itself readily to any influences with which it might be brought in contact; but firm and decided in its convictions, yet never blindly obstinate nor wilfully perverse, but open to conviction and ready to give its assent to whatever could be shown to be just or proper. He was "an Israelite indeed, in whom there was no guile." The beautiful harmony of all the Christian graces which made his life a model, uniting all its parts in the various relations of life, is to be attributed to the fact that with him all things were subordinated to one great purpose and principle; to him "to live was Christ." To neglect no duty which could possibly be performed, was the rule and habit of his life. The business of the day was not permitted to interfere with the hours which were appropriated to private devotion or domestic society. Each had its proper place and each its appropriate time. The burdens, the cares, the anxieties that may have attended the daily hour, were not brought into the quiet circle of home-life to become skeletons in the house; but in that quiet retreat, the man of business was forgotten in the husband, the father, and the friend. Such a life was always cheerful, and its highest happiness was found in the unselfish contribution to the happiness of others. Twice in the history of his life was the tenderest tie that man can know on earth broken, and the twilight dews fell upon the graves of those who had been to him dearer than life. But the sorrows which even a manly heart can feel were not permitted to throw their dark shadows over the home where the light of love should pour its hallowed rays.

It was not a little remarkable that one whose early advantages of education were so limited, and whose life from childhood had been occupied so much with active business, should have acquired so much knowledge as to make him an interesting companion even to cultivated men. But the secret is of easy solution. The same system which governed his life in other things, ruled also here. When the claims of business and of family had been satisfied, the hours till midnight, or nearly so, were given to reading and study. An extensive traveler, a curious enquirer, and a close observer, he could not fail to gather up stores of information, which, added to a genial nature, would make him an agreeable companion. A trustee of Wofford College, he evinced a lively interest in its success, and by his presence on all public exhibitions, delighted to encourage and stimulate the young in their literary pursuits. He showed to the last his attachment to the institution, by bequeathing to its library his large and valuable collection of periodicals.

Before the late war he had accumulated a handsome competency, upon which he was just purposing to retire from active business, as became his years, and spend his remaining days in the quiet retreat of private life. But, in common with so many others, the hard earned gains of his whole life were lost in the general wreck. That high sense of honesty and honor which had marked all his transactions through life, forbade his asking any compromise with his creditors, and believing his assets were more than ample to meet all his liabilities, he renewed his obligations in full. His hopes in this regard were disappointed, and when he expected quietly to retire from the world's cares and toils, the claims of a dependent family called him again into the arena of business. At the age of seventy, when most men would have sunk under the weight of such disasters, he removed from Columbia to Spartanburg, entered into a new business, and by the sterling qualities which so signally marked his former life, he soon succeeded in establishing and enlarging his business, at the same time securing the esteem and regard of the community in which he had settled.

His love for the worship and service of God in no wise abated with the increase of years. He had always been a man of vigorous and robust health, yet the eyes of affection could perceive that some of the infirmities of age began to show themselves. Still his seat in the house of God was regularly filled from Sabbath to Sabbath, and at the prayer meeting in the week his voice was still heard. Upon his removal to Spartanburg, the Church received him with open arms, and in recognition of his long and well known services, he was invited to an official relationship. The close of his life below was in perfect keeping with its history for years. The last Sunday he spent on earth, he attended service morning and night. At the last prayer meeting before his departure, his voice was heard in its deep and solemn appeals, mingled with great emotion, as he led the supplications of his brethren. The last evening he passed below, he was intending to go out to the meeting of the Official Board, when the messenger appeared, bringing a call to another meeting in a brighter sphere. One night of agony he spent, and when the morning brought no relief, he gradually and softly sunk into gentle sleep, "from which none ever wake to weep."

While eminently catholic in feeling, and always ready to rejoice in the prosperity of every branch of the Church of Christ, and to co-operate with all in efforts to advance the Saviour's kingdom, his affection was strong for the Church of his early choice. Out of his very limited means, he left a legacy to the Washington street Church, in Columbia, where for near sixty years he had worshipped—under the shadow of whose walls rest the precious remains of his wives and several children—and which had been to him a place of sweet communion with his Saviour and his God, and of fellowship with kindred saints.

We lay our garland on his grave, but the Master whom he loved and served will place upon his brow a crown of glory that shall never fade away.

MEMOIRS OF LOCAL PREACHERS

ONCE CONNECTED WITH THE SOUTH CAROLINA CONFERENCE, CONDENSED
FROM TRAVIS'S AUTOBIOGRAPHY.

MARK MOORE.

Admitted 1786. Located 1799. In 1819, stationed in New Orleans. He was not a regular itinerant preacher; would that he had been! "The best of men are but men at best." He was always too unsettled in his movements, except in regard to piety and devotion. I dare not charge him with being deficient in this respect, or even wilfully aberrating from the rule of right. He was a good scholar, and as a preacher no man in the South stood higher than he. He was unfortunate in his temporal affairs; ought never to have turned his attention to anything but theology. How well adapted to the ministry his solemn look, his impressive gestures, his sublime, yet plain and chaste language, with the intonation of his voice, rendered him an eloquent and effective preacher; few equalled him, and still fewer excelled him, South or North. He lived to be quite aged, and still a faithful and holy minister. But all we know of his last moments are, "And he died." Does any tombstone point out the remains of this pioneer of Southern Methodism? I fear not.

HENRY LEDBETTER.

Admitted 1787. Located 1806. He may not be ranked among what are called great preachers, yet he was a useful and holy man of God. He lived to be aged, and no doubt continued to bear much good fruit in his old age.

WM. GASSAWAY.

Admitted 1788. Located 1813. He travelled seventeen years, with a large family, and poor pay. But he loved God, and loved Methodism, and earnestly sought the salvation of sinners. He was a sound, orthodox preacher, and, on suitable occasions, argumentative and polemical—a great lover and skillful defender of Methodist doctrines and usages. He was a pleasant and sociable companion—always cheerful, never gloomy. After his location, he was the same laborious, zealous, and holy minister of God. He lived to mature old age, and died full of faith and the Holy Ghost.

JOSIAH ASKEW.

Admitted 1788. Located 1797. He is said to have located from absolute necessity. From $64 to $80 for a man and his wife, and a little pittance for each child, would certainly induce such necessity. "His praise was in all the Churches, as a gifted preacher, a zealous, holy, and humble Christian, doing much good wherever he labored."

JONATHAN JACKSON

Was one of the fathers of the Southern Church, admitted 1789, and finally located 1815. He had been in the itinerancy for twenty-six years. I was blessed with his acquaintance—he having been my Presiding Elder more than once. He was one that could bear acquaintance. His preaching talents were not the most brilliant; but his sermons were always calculated to do good—orthodox and scriptural, practical and experimental, and on the prophecies, profound and interesting. In his local sphere of action, he was still the same untiring and persevering servant of the most high God. The time of his departure at length arrived. His lamp was trimmed and brightly burning. An hour or so before his death, a preacher present perceived that his recollection was fast giving way. He asked Brother Jackson if he knew him. The reply was, no. Sister Jackson also being present, the brother asked him if he knew his wife. The reply was, no. The preacher then asked him if he knew Jesus. "Jesus," says he, "yes; I have known my Saviour for better than forty years." This was about the last thing he said.

SAMUEL COWLES.

Admitted 1790. Located 1806. I have seen Mr. Cowles, but never heard him preach. From the important appointments he must have possessed some talent, and weight of character. In his local sphere, as far as he could, he continued to aid the cause of our Zion.

BENJAMIN BLANTON.

Admitted 1790. Located 1800. "If there has ever been any notice of this great and good man in any of our periodicals, I know it not. Admitted in 1790, in 1799 was Presiding Elder on Charleston District, extending from St. Mary's to Natchez, and thence to Wilmington, N. C., a territory now embracing four annual Conferences. His were days of trial. He was a good preacher, his language chaste, carefully avoiding euphonisms in the pulpit. In him were sweetly blended the true gentleman and humble Christian. Cheerful, but never frothy; magnanimous, but not supercilious; fixed, but not bigotted; positive, but not dogmatic; flexible, but not pusillanimous. His house was the young itinerants' home, his library free of access, and his long experience and good judgment was to them an auxiliary of no small magnitude. He lived to a good old age, beloved and respected by all. In his death our Church sustained a great loss. As one of our Southern pioneers and fathers of Methodism, he ought never to be forgotten."

COLEMAN CARLISLE.

Admitted 1792. Located 1823, not from choice, but from absolute necessity. He was a poor man, with a sickly, though truly good, and excellent wife, and quite a number of little boys and girls. Boarding in his house, I have had an opportunity of knowing him in all the relations of life. I have known him after returning home from preaching, after supper to plough by moonlight until near midnight, and then go off next morning to his appointment, etc. In Mr. C.'s time there was no provision made for "family expenses." He was literally an industrious man, a very popular preacher, and when local would be sent for far and near to preach funeral sermons, receiving nothing for his labor. He was a man of strong passions—by nature quite irritable—and his peculiar temperament was a deep regret to him. Hence he used to say to me that he believed an ounce of grace would go farther with some than a pound with others. He lived to a good old age, "and he died"—when, where, or how, some of his children and near neighbors may know; but, alas! the Church at large in South Carolina knows it not. He was among the pioneers of Southern Methodism. He endured hardships, often hungered and thirsted, laboring with his own hands. His work of faith, patience of hope, and labor of love, were not in vain. Many were brought to God through his instrumentality. Peace to his ashes, wherever they may lie.

Of his brother, Simon Carlisle, who entered the itinerancy two years before him, he used to relate a thrilling circumstance. This brother, reproving a wicked young man, incurred his wrath. Placing a pistol in his saddlebags, he accused the preacher of theft. Next day, procuring a search warrant, and making oath that he believed Parson Carlisle had stolen his pistol, an officer was dispatched forthwith in pursuit of Mr. C. Overtaking and making known his business, Mr. C. readily consented to be searched, and, conscious of his innocence, was eager for the examination of his saddlebags. But, alas! out comes the pistol. Brother C., thunderstruck, knew not what to do; but calmly gave himself up to the officer. He was found guilty; even the Church expelled him. He thus remained two long years, after which time the wretched young man on his deathbed frantically cried out: "I cannot die until I reveal one thing! Parson Carlisle never stole that pistol. I myself put it in his saddlebags." Brother C. was restored to the Church and ministry. He belonged to the Tennessee Conference, and died in peace, in 1838.

GEORGE CLARKE.

Admitted 1792. Located in 1801. Mr. C. had quite respectable preaching talents, and was esteemed by his neighbors and the public generally. Sociable and pleasant in his manners, all were at ease in his company. He was plain in dress, though a man of considerable wealth. He resided on Enoree River, Union District, S. C. The cause of Methodism in that county was much aided by his influence and talents. He lived to an advanced age "and he died," is all the Church in general knows.

JAMES DOUTHET.

The name of James Douthet is venerated by hundreds in South Carolina. When but a youth I remember hearing his fame proclaimed by many as one of the great ones of the earth, and, from what I learned in after days, he was ranked far above mediocrity. He was universally beloved as a neighbor, citizen, and gospel minister. He lived and preached in mature old age; "and he died."

JOHN HARPER.

Located 1803. He was in his day well known, and his talents as a minister duly appreciated. He was the first Methodist preacher that ever got any foothold in Columbia, S. C. He was, in very deed, one of the fathers of Southern Methodism. When and where, and how he died, I know not, but hope he is monumentally recognized somewhere in the South. He was the father of Chancellor Harper, of South Carolina.

HANOVER DONNAN.

Admitted 1798. Located 1808. I was well acquainted with Mr. Donnan. For depth of piety he had not many equals. His preaching talents were not splendid; his delivery was much against him. He appeared to study plainness of speech in the pulpit, which, being accompanied with deep solemnity and earnestness, often had a salutary effect upon his congregation. By the pious he was always beloved and respected. After his location the same principle of holiness continued to actuate him.

JOSEPH TARPLEY.

Admitted 1804. Located 1821. Beloved and esteemed by the Bishops and the members of the Conference. I well recollect that Bishop McKendree yielded to his location with great reluctance. In his manners he was social, pleasant, yet dignified. He was a plain, energetic, and (as is sometimes called) powerful preacher. He had an excellent voice; his emphasis and cadence always wisely directed. After his location, he was still a pious man, and a popular preacher; but, unfortunately, entering into mercantile business, he was unsuccessful, and lost all but his religion. He preached regularly to the end of life. "And he died."

JAMES CROWDER.

Admitted 1800. Located 1806. Family concerns forbade his continuing in the itinerancy. His talents as a preacher were not great, yet for general utility he was not behind any of his brethren. His life was uniform, holy, exemplary, and useful, and he died as he lived.

JAMES HILL.

Admitted 1803. Located 1806. He possessed superior preaching talents; his person was manly, his manner dignified, and his address interesting—made more so by his natural oratorical powers. Had he continued to devote his time and talents to the ministry, few would have excelled him in that calling. He remained pious to the last. After a few years in his local sphere he died.

ASHLEY HEWITT.

Admitted 1811, end of 1818 located, re-admitted 1820, and finally located 1832. He was much esteemed by the South Carolina Conference and stood eminently high in his missionary fields in Mississippi and Louisiana. Not long after his location he died. He had several children, all of whom had embraced religion, except one daughter, about sixteen years of age, for whom he had prayed again and again, and would not give over his fervent addresses to a throne of grace in her behalf. Both himself and daughter were taken sick the same day. He was conscious of approaching dissolution, as medicines failed to take effect upon him. Hearing it to be the case also with his daughter, he despaired of her recovery, but not of her salvation. Intelligence was brought him that she was dead. He asked, "Did she profess religion before she died?" The answer was, no. Then said he, "She is not dead; God will not permit her to die until she is converted. I have trusted my Heavenly Father too long to doubt it, and he has heard my prayers too frequently now to turn a deaf ear to my dying request in behalf of my beloved child." But she was laid out, shroud made, eyes closed, etc.; when to the astonishment of all present, after lying thus about an hour, she opened her eyes, and said distinctly, "Glory to God, my sins are forgiven, and I am going safe to heaven." Soon after she died, and her father also the same day.

HILLIARD JUDGE.

Admitted 1806. Located 1817. A pleasant companion. There was nothing sour or morose in his manners. Equally at home in the palatial mansion as in the log cabin—no company, however grand, agitated his mind. In the pulpit it was the same. At the sitting of the Legislature of South Carolina he was called upon to preach, and took for his text, "Except ye repent ye shall all likewise perish." He lived but a short time after location—was arrested by consumption—"and he died"—much lamented by thousands who knew him well, and loved him much. But no periodical ever announced the manner of his death.

MISSIONARY REPORT.

BY REV. O. A. DARBY.

The anniversaries of this Society were once occasions of enthusiastic joy ; now they are occasions of profound concern. Once devoted Missionaries returned to tell the story of their toils and successes, and the Church, moved by a holy impulse, poured out her treasure to send forth the Gospel ; now the plaintive voice which floats across the seas from the outposts of the Church, and the cries of the destitute at home, fail to stir the sympathies of the people, and are answered by contributions wholly inadequate to meet their necessities. Once our annual reports glowed with the enthusiasm of repeated victories ; now they are clouded by the dark touches of poverty and toil.

There cannot exist in any American Methodist Church a deep seated and extended hostility to the Missionary cause. These representatives of Wesleyan Methodism owe too much to Missionary labor ever to turn their backs upon the cause. Planted by heroic and devoted men from the Mother Church, and developed by those who forsook home and penetrated the wilderness to preach Jesus, they can never become the enemies of a cause which brought them into being, nursed them in infancy, educated them in youth, and has given them their glorious efficiency. To assert that the Southern Methodist Church is opposed to Missions, would be a slander, which would arouse the indignation of her ministers and members from the Potomac to the Pacific.

There are, however, in almost every congregation, a few individuals who are opposed to the expenditure of money for the support of the Gospel in distant Missionary stations. Nor do we always find these individuals among the uninformed and poor ; they are, perhaps, oftener met among men of culture and social influence. But whoever they are, and wherever they are, whether out of the Church or in the Church, they have not the spirit of Christ, and have failed to recognize the great truth that the Gospel alone is the power of God unto salvation.

Though there does not exist any organized hostility to the Missionary cause either in our Conference or Church, there does exist a wide spread and alarming indifference to this noblest enterprize of Christendom. An indifference which is felt from the mountains to the sea. Which meets our appeals with stubborn coldness, and turns away, leaving but a bare pittance for our cause. Hear what the Missionary Secretaries of the Church say in their circular to our Conference : "In our Domestic Mission fields thousands have been brought to God through the preaching of the word, while the labors of our Foreign Missionaries have not been without reward. When, however, we contemplate the vastness of the regions to be occupied, the urgent demands that are now being made upon us, and the great opportunities that, in the providence of God, are offered to our Church, and then consider the scarcity of our laborers, the meagreness of our contributions, and the poverty of our treasury, we are sad and ashamed. Candor compels the confession that the Missionary operations of our Church are far below our ability and opportunities. Perhaps we are more delinquent in our Mission work than in any other department of Christian activity."

"In the Foreign field we are doing less than any other Church in Christendom with anything like our numbers and resources. Confession and repentance become us. If we do not move forward we shall be discredited in the eyes of the Christian world. If we refuse to do our part of the Mission work of the age, we shall be greatly, if not irreparably, damaged in all the elements that constitute a spiritual and aggressive Church. An unmissionary Church cannot be truly or permanently prosperous."

All this is humiliating indeed. It sends a pang to the heart, brings a blush to the cheek, and would not be said if with safety it could be withheld. Painful as is the fact, it is wise to face it at once, and to save the Church from a greater evil, it is a pressing duty to attack it now with a courage and resolution which will drive it from the field.

There are obvious reasons why our contributions cannot be as liberal as they were in other days, but there are no reasons why our interest in the Missionary cause should diminish with our means.

The world has recently made wonderful progress in civilization. Arts and sciences have been carried to a perfection which surpasses the highest expectation of our ancestors. But this progress does not abate its need of the Gospel. Man is a sinner, whether he be an accomplished scholar or an untutored savage, and it is the Christian's duty to point every son and daughter of Adam to the Cross of Jesus Christ. It is also the declared will of God that these glad tidings of salvation shall be carried to every man. "Go into all the world and preach the Gospel to every creature," comes to us with the same authority that it did to the Apostles. We dare not disobey it. We die if we disobey it. Nay! rather let us solemnly resolve in the sight of heaven, we will not disobey it. So long as the love of Jesus burns within our hearts, let us speak of Jesus. Let us continue to send forth the glad news "till every knee shall bow and every tongue shall confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father."

"Waft, waft, ye winds the story;
And you, ye waters, roll;
Till like a sea of glory
It rolls from pole to pole."

REPORTS.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON EDUCATION.

The Committee on Education respectfully present the following Report :

The success of the various educational enterprises under the auspices of our Conference, is a cause of devout thanksgiving to Almighty God. With Columbia Female College at the capital of the State, Cokesbury Conference School, in the beautiful and retired village of Cokesbury, and Wofford College in Spartanburg, the Conference is well prepared to offer educational facilities of a high order, and all that is needed to make these institutions of learning accomplish all that the Church in her efforts and prayers desires, is a continuation of liberal patronage.

WOFFORD COLLEGE.

The College has succeeded in sustaining an advanced grade of scholarship, and the young men thrown upon their honor have been strictly governed without seeming to be. The students generally have been orderly in their deportment, and have maintained that high tone of moral and religious sentiment that has heretofore characterized the institution.

The Faculty and Trustees are greatly cheered by the happy results worked out by the College from year to year, and record with gratitude the recent gracious revival of religion in the Church at Spartanburg, by which nearly all the students, not before converted, were brought to a saving knowledge of Christ, and made lively members of His Church. Thus God, from time to time, manifests His gracious purpose to reward the fostering care and liberality of the Conference and Board extended to the College conducted under their patronage.

Your Committee recommend three thousand five hundred dollars as the assessment for education for the ensuing year. Two thousand to be appropriated to Wofford College, and fifteen hundred dollars to aid in liquidating the old debt on Columbia Female College.

Rev. H. A. C. Walker has been unanimously recommended by the Board of Trustees as Financial Secretary, and the recommendation endorsed by your Committee, and we earnestly hope that the Bishop will acquiesce in this desire, and that Brother Walker will receive the hearty co-operation of the members of this body.

COLUMBIA FEMALE COLLEGE.

According to the report of the Board of Trustees, this institution is fully sustaining its reputation as a first-class institution of learning for young ladies. Under the management of Dr. Jones, and his efficient corps of instructors, it has gained rapidly in public confidence, as evidenced by the large number of pupils in attendance during the past collegiate year.

The Board of Trustees express much gratification not only in regard to the seeming ease with which an efficient discipline is enforced, but with the thoroughness of instruction and its marked effects upon the manners, the conduct, and the attainments of the pupils. They are satisfied that, if the College should be closed to-morrow, the influence which must be exerted upon society by the twenty-four graduates of the past year, with minds well trained and apparently awake to the responsibilities of life, would more than compensate for the labor and sacrifice involved in the opening of the College. The financial condition of the institution is not satisfactory. While its income from board and tuition, during the past year, has more than met all expenses, yet the old debt contracted in the building is an incubus upon its prosperity. This debt ought to be paid. Through the energy of the Executive Committee it has been adjusted, so that now there is no outstanding obligation of any importance due for three years to come. But the interest upon this debt must be met semi-annually, and some means provided for its gradual reduction.

Your Committee offer the following :

Resolved, That the Columbia Female College being the only Female Institution in the State owned and controlled by the South Carolina Conference, and being the only property of said Conference upon which there is any debt, we will make an earnest and persistent effort to relieve it of this burden.

Resolved, That we heartily recommend the College to the sympathy, the patronage, and the support of our people.

COKESBURY CONFERENCE SCHOOL.

This institution of learning has passed through another successful year. The number of students has been about fifty, one-third of the number boarding pupils, and in general have given satisfactory evidence of studious habits and correct deportment. There has been but little necessity for the enforcement of harsh discipline, owing to the disposition of the young men to conform themselves to the laws of the institution. Several young men have been recently prepared for College at Cokesbury, and are now students at Wofford to continue their education; and while the school prepares young men especially for College, it presents an opportunity to any who may not desire a collegiate course to secure a thorough English and business education.

Rev. George F. Round, the accomplished gentleman and scholar, has had charge of the institution for the past two years, but has resigned the Rectorship to enter upon the active duties of the itinerancy, and while his valuable services are lost to the institution, the Board are gratified in being able to announce that they have secured the services of Professor J. L. Jones, of Georgia, who comes highly recommended by Bishop Pierce, and O. L. Smith, President of Emory College.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON BOOKS AND PERIODICALS.

The Committee on Books and Periodicals, respectfully submit the following Report :

The condition of our Publishing House at Nashville demands attention, by reason of its central and official relation to the connection at large. Nor can we be insensible to the importance of a faithful and competent management of so large an investment. From the annual exhibit of the Rev. A. H. Redford, D.D., Agent, we note the following items as worthy of mention in the published Minutes of this Conference. Over and above all liabilities, the Assets of the House, July 1, 1866, were.....$ 87,165 70
 “ “ July 1, 1874 “ 314,037 11

Showing an increase, in eight years, of.....$226,871 41

Nor is it at all discreditable that over $40,000 of this increase was contributed by the liberality of the Church and friends of the House. And, as the capital has been raised to threefold its original value in eight years, in the face of difficulties which at times seemed insurmountable, we feel truly hopeful of its future success. But we should not be forgetful of the fact, that on the first of July, 1874, the actual indebtedness of the House amounted to $219,540 81, more than one-third of its assets. This debt, we are told, was mainly incurred in the purchase of additional grounds, and for building. But, in view of the present condition of the money market, it constitutes no very inconsiderable burthen upon a Publishing House that ordinarily does no larger business than ours.

The “Christian Advocate,” the “Sunday School Magazine,” “Our Little People,” and the “Lesson Papers,” are now so well and widely known, and so highly appreciated among our people, that it is only necessary for your Committee to say that they are, as they have heretofore been, among the very best publications of their class in America—with this higher recommendation, that they are ours; and we must sustain them.

The “Southern Quarterly Review” is no less valuable than it has been, in a literary point of view; and, as heretofore, we cordially recommend it to our people as the only publication of its class adapted to our latitude, or to our ecclesiastical system.

In relation to our Conference Organ, the “Southern Christian Advocate,” published by J. W. Burke & Co., Macon, Ga., it is but just to say, that the diminution of its circulation, as stated in the Report of the Publishing Committee, is not the result of any depreciation in its intrinsic value; nor is it because our people are less attached than formerly to the dear old paper; nor do we believe that our preachers have abated their efforts to sustain it; but the fact is attributable to the commercial pressure, which continues, like a deadly incubus, to paralyze the energies of the business world. To the same cause do we attribute the falling off in the money receipts for the year. But we must not yield to the pressure of the times. We should rather renew our efforts to place the “Advocate” in every Methodist family, and to keep it there. We approve the Editorial management of the Rev. Dr. Kennedy, and would offer a word of cheer to the publishers of the paper. We will do what we can to sustain them. The subscription price—$2.50 per annum—may be a little startling at first; but it is due to the present condition of things affecting the price of printing, and postal circulation.

In conclusion, your Committee respectfully recommend the following resolutions for adoption by the Conference :

1. That we will use our best endeavors to circulate the literature of our Church, and especially that issued from our Publishing House at Nashville.
2. That we will continue to patronize the Sunday School books and periodicals of our Church in preference to all others.

3. That we will not abate our efforts to lift the "Southern Christian Advocate" above the waves of adverse fortune, with which it has so long had to contend.

4. That Simpson Bobo, Esq., be constituted the representative of this Conference on the Publishing Committee of the "Southern Christian Advocate."

LANDY WOOD, Chairman.

REPORT OF THE JOINT BOARD OF FINANCE.

The Joint Board of Finance are gratified to report that the collections lifted for the support of the Bishops have been sufficient to pay the entire assessment upon the Conference for that purpose—say $700, also $50 for travelling expenses; all of which has been paid over and vouchers taken.

The last session of the Conference, held in Sumter, increased the number of claimants upon the Conference collection to seventy-six, and thus added to the claims about $900.

Notwithstanding this large increase in the Church's pension list, the Board are happy to announce that the amount of the collections has increased in still greater proportion. The gross sum collected this year is $5,544 40, which is over sixty-seven per cent. of the entire disciplinary allowance, and an increase over the year 1873 of $798 90.

A comparison of the two years last past in the several Presiding Elders' districts shows the following results in the Conference collection:

Charleston District, 1874	$865 00.	Increase...	$ 5 00
Orangeburg District, 1874.....	697 00.	Increase...	32 25
Columbia District, 1874.....	608 40.	Decrease...	3 65

From information received, we can assure the brethren that this "collection for the poor saints" will carry a sweet satisfaction to many of God's dear children, suffering from the infirmities of age or the affliction of bereavement.

The amount necessary to meet the claims on the Conference collection for the ensuing year is $8,000, also $750 for the support of the Bishops.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON TEMPERANCE.

The Methodist Church, in all her branches, from the earliest period of her history, has given no uncertain sound on the subject of Temperance. She has lifted her voice and exerted her energies, in the endeavor to arrest a vice which is the fruitful source of crime, violence, immorality, poverty, and domestic misery.

The M. E. Church, South, has not been a whit behind the other great Methodist organizations, in zeal and devotion to this great work. Forbidding the use of intoxicating drinks, except in cases of necessity, she has stood forth a unit with her sisters, in opposition to a vice which entails taxes and losses upon our people, far in excess of the revenues derived from their sale.

She still places herself, by her laws and her discipline, her ministry and laity, in direct antagonism to this great evil, regarding the necessity absolute, and the duty imperative, of doing all she can to banish intemperance from the land.

Your Committee would earnestly invoke the hearty co-operation of this Body, its ministry and laymen, in this good cause, until, by their united zeal and effort against the use, as a beverage, of alcoholic stimulants, its influence shall be so diminished, that it shall cease to lie as a reproach upon the Church of Christ, and be the means of drowning so many unhappy victims in disgrace and ruin.

In reference to the Memorial referred to your Committee, we beg leave to offer the following Resolution :

Resolved, That we heartily endorse the sentiments contained in the Memorial presented to this Conference by W. Z. Leitner, Grand Worthy Patriarch of the Sons of Temperance in South Carolina, and that we will still do all in our power to promote the great cause of Temperance, as set forth in that excellent paper.

(Signed.)

JOHN A. MOOD,
In behalf of the Committee.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE BIBLE CAUSE.

The Committee to whom the consideration of the Bible cause was committed, beg leave respectfully to report.

That, whereas the work of Bible distribution in this State is under the control and management of an efficient agent, appointed by the A. B. Society, and of the local societies in the several counties of the State, it appears to your Committee that all we are now called upon to do, is to renew our earnest protestations of interest in, and sympathy with the great work of Bible distribution throughout the world, until all the nations of the earth shall be able to read in their own tongue, the wonderful works of God, and His way shall be known upon earth, and His saving health among all nations.

We therefore respectfully recommend the adoption of the following resolutions, as the sense of this Conference.

1st. That regarding the holy scriptures as the only rule, and the sufficient rule, both of our faith and practice, and that relying upon their sacred teachings for the salvation of our race, we will continue to do all we can for their universal dissemination.

2nd. That it is with sincere pleasure, and heartfelt gratitude, that we contemplate the ever enlarging operations, and increasing usefulness of the A. B. Society.

3d. That while we are highly gratified with the past efforts and success of the Rev. Edwin A. Bolles, District Superintendent of the American Bible Society for South Carolina, we renew our pledges to sympathize with, and aid him in his glorious work.

WM. MARTIN, Chairman Committee,
Greenville, S. C. December, 1874.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON THE CAROLINA ORPHAN HOME.

We have given the subject committed to us as careful an examination as circumstances would permit. The Superintendent states, that on account of serious illness he has not made out a report of the receipts and expenditures of the Orphan Home for the past year, but from a calculation, made some months since, about nine-tenths of the expenditures necessary to sustain the Home had been met by him individually. He does not allow the Home to get in debt. Pays cash for everything, following the scriptural injunction, "owe no man anything." The "Orphan's Friend" is gradually increasing in circulation, and Bro. Oliver thinks it will eventually become a source of reliable income to the Home. With 5,000 subscribers he is satisfied that fifty orphans could be supported and educated. We insist earnestly that proper effort be made this year to secure that number of subscribers.

Let every one reflect in subscribing—I am in this way most effectually promoting and sustaining the interests of the Home. The Superintendent is desirous of putting the Home on the same basis for support as the Orphan Home in Bristol, England, which has no agents but the printing press and the prayers of God's people. Mr. George Muller, the Superintendent of the Home in Bristol, received last year for all purposes of his institution £40,000 or $200,000. This large amount was received in answer to prayer; and rears and sustains in Bristol, England, an institution, which is one of the noblest monuments of Christian benevolence the world has ever seen. It certainly declares to the Church and the world the Omnipotence of prayer and faith. Why not have such a monument right here in our midst, on this side of the great waters? We are deeply impressed with the importance of the Home and the great need there is for properly sustaining it, and do therefore heartily commend it to the kind and generous consideration of our people for their support throughout the State. Bro Oliver states that the real property is worth from $20,000 to $25,000, $10,000 in bonds. The real property has been deeded to Trustees, on condition that it or its proceeds be forever used for the purposes of the "Orphan Home." Besides this the printing presses and fixtures are worth about $3,000. There are now in the institution about twenty orphans in process of education and well provided for. We repeat, if the Church and the benevolent will give the 5,000 subscribers, called for, to the "Orphan's Friend," thirty more orphans, according to the estimation of Bro. Oliver, can and will be provided for. Let us furnish the 5,000 subscribers and speed the Home on its glorious mission of benevolence and love, in providing for the destitute orphans of our Church and the land we love. Respectfully submitted,

December 19th, 1874.

S. H. BROWNE, Chairman.

REPORT OF THE SUNDAY SCHOOL BOARD.

It would be an unseemly charge against the intelligence and religious appreciation of this Conference, and of our people at large, should we essay to discuss at length the importance of Sunday Schools, as an auxiliary of the Church, in the accomplishment of her work in the world. This is patent to every one who has studied the relation of childhood to manhood, or the necessity of subordinating the powers of head and heart to good, before they are made tributary to evil. The whole spiritual economy, under the Jewish dispensation, recognized this relation, and made provision for this necessity. Every Jewish child was, by solemn rites ordained of God, brought into immediate relation to the Church, and ever treated accordingly —a matter, the significance of which has been too much disregarded in these later times.

Solomon enunciated in the Proverb, "Train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old he will not depart from it," a great truth, which should impel us to move forward in the work of saving the children.

The former Board suggested, and repeated the suggestion, of County Conventions. This has been carried out only in one County, so far as we can learn—there with a measure of success. We would suggest the substitution of Circuits or Stations for Counties. Let there be something of the kind in every place.

We also beg leave to recommend to our preachers and superintendents that, in addition to the ordinary lessons and exercises, the Lord's Prayer, the Creed, and the Commandments, be constantly taught; and we are of the opinion the Articles of Religion and the General Rules might be read and commented on with profit. Thus our young people would learn both Methodist doctrine and Methodist law, and be prepared intelligently to take their places in the Church.

We recommend the adoption of the following Resolutions :

1. Resolved, That we are as much as ever profoundly impressed with the importance of the Sunday School work, and that we will give all diligence to promote it.

2. Resolved, That next Sunday afternoon be devoted to the Mass Meeting usually held at our Conference sessions.

3. Resolved, That Bishop Marvin and Dr. Haygood be, and they are hereby requested, to address the people at that time.

4. Resolved, That the Sunday Schools of the various Churches of the City be invited to be present on the occasion.

J. M. CARLISLE,
President of Sunday School Board.

The Committee appointed on the publication of the minutes of the present session of our conference, beg leave to recommend Rev. A. M. Chrietzberg, for the editor of the minutes; and he, in conjunction with Rev. W. C. Power, the Secretary of the Conference, for a publishing committee; and that this Committee be instructed to contract for, and have published, just as many copies of the minutes as the cash contributed will allow, and furthermore, that this Committee be instructed to arrange with the preacher or preachers in charge of the station or stations, where the minutes are published, to distribute them to the several charges, according to the amount of money collected and paid in by those charges.

As to the indebtedness for the minutes of the last session of our Conference, the committee see no way of liquidating it, but by voluntary contributions of the members of this body.

The Committee also recommended the same plan for raising money for the publication of the minutes of the next session of our Conference, that has been pursued for the publication of the minutes of the present session, as the best that can be devised.

Respectfully submitted,

MANNING BROWN, Chairman.

VENI, SANCTE SPIRITUS.

Come, Holy Spirit, from above,
And from the realms of light and love
Thine own bright rays impart.
Come, Father of the fatherless,
Come, Giver of all happiness,
Come, Lamp of every heart.

O Thou, of comforters the best,
O Thou, the soul's most welcome guest,
O Thou, our sweet repose.
Our resting place from life's long care,
Our shadow from the world's fierce glare,
Our solace in all woes.

O Light Divine, all light excelling,
Fill with thyself the inmost dwelling
Of souls sincere and lowly;
Without Thy pure divinity,
Nothing in all humanity—
Nothing is strong or holy.

Wash out each dark and sordid stain,
Water each dry and arid plain,
Raise up the bruised reed !
Enkindle what is cold and chill,
Relax the stiff and stubborn will,
Guide those that guidance need.

Give to the good, who find in Thee
The Spirit's perfect liberty,
Thy sevenfold power and love.
Give virtue strength its crown to win,
Give struggling souls their rest from sin,
Give endless peace above,
